

TRUST

NOT IN THIS DAY...

TRUST? In a world dominated by corporate greed, when “its all about me!” When legalities overrule the Golden Rule. In a time where we would be a fool to trust anyone. Was I born yesterday?

Well, as the world continues an unfortunate downward spiral of greed, me, lawyers and skepticism, this believer knows we can still trust; that we are to treat others as we would want to be treated (Luke 6:31 CEV). We know it can be done. PWP has been operated that way since our beginning on May 27, 1977.

That does not mean we're perfect, only One is perfect. It means we treat you the same as we would want to be treated if someone was working on our home. We would hope to be on time with appointments, to be treated with courtesy and respect, maybe even with some enthusiasm for our project. We would expect fair prices and fair dealings.

We would hope the work to be done in a pleasing manner, orderly and consistently. Our joy would be complete when all was done and everything went as well as possible and that the work was done with pride of accomplishment. Isn't that all we really want – to be treated fairly?

Well, its these kinds of people PWP attracts. Those wanting to get the best of us are encouraged to seek elsewhere and they do. That's okay.

We're ready to face another winter and we have never been more ready. Jehova Jira, our Provider, has gone before us and worked out all the details. But we have to do our part to stay busy: Winter rates on all interior work have started! We will show you our commitment to keep our workforce busy by keeping prices low.

Our “Buy-the-Hour” Program has been overwhelmingly successful. Its “cost savings” and “project control” benefits our customers incredibly and the trust factor is sky high.
