Employee Testimonial

I was given the opportunity to give the community a glimpse of my experiences working here at Painting With Pride. I wasn't real sure what the readers would look for, but decided it was a wonderful opportunity for me to express how blessed I am to be employed with such a great group of people.

Ten years ago I came to Painting With Pride very young and not real sure what my goals in life were. With no office experience I quickly learned a lot from the awesome people who took me under their wing, showed a lot of patience with me and above all else, taught me to always do the next right thing. With all their help and friendship we work as a real team. With all the things taught to me I made it a very important part of my job to show all our customers what a wonderful group of people they are trusting to do their painting projects.

I learned that running a successful, legitimate, something-to-be-proud-of business is not a one person show, but a group effort by many dedicated people. I realized to give our customers what they deserve depends largely on the workforce you employ. Here at Painting With Pride I have never experienced working with more dedicated individuals who are completely skilled and professional at their trade. My joy is talking with all our customers and hearing them tell me of the wonderful experience they had with us. That makes everything we do perfect in the world.

I could write a book with all the experiences I have had working with Painting With Pride, but the final chapter would be dedicated to Greg, Jeff, Brian, Evaristo and all the people and customers I have had the pleasure of working with over the years. So with that said, please consider us when you are looking for a reliable, ethical, trustworthy painting company to help you on your next project.

I look forward to taking with you...

Thank you,
